

CITY A.M.

Monday 19th March 2007

Grayson Pender Wordsworth, gpw, the international business intelligence and investigations firm, has appointed Nick Chance, private secretary to Prince Michael of Kent, to its advisory board.

Chance was educated at Eton and commissioned into the Royal Green Jackets, before serving on active service in Borneo during the 1960s. He passed the Civil Service selection board for the Foreign Office and subsequently joined the central and eastern European department of the Financial Times.